Dear Daniel and Lucy,

The season is almost over and I finally have a few moments to catch up on the various stacks of things-to-do that have piled up in my office.

I read your teleplay "Convergence," and found it quite well written -- far, far better than the average spec script. Since you're already pitching to us, I can't offer anything more just now, but I will feed it into the DS9 pile for evaluation over there.

I think you show definite potential as television writers, and I wish you the best in your endeavors.

Sincerely,

Jeri Taylor
